Dad's Day Is Success Despite Heavy Deluge

Dad's Spirits Undampened As They Participate in Eventful, Varied Program

Dad's Day, Saturday, October twenty-third, turned out to be the wettest Saturday of the year. The rain, however did not daunt the dads who turned out four hundred and seventy-five strong to brave the storm and participate in the eventful program pre-arranged for them.

As early as eight-thirty the cars began to crowd around the faculty house, and Louis Bourgoin once again had heavy traffic to contend with on Durham's Main street. Inside the faculty house the students and their fathers found shelter from the downpour and were served coffee and doughnuts before registering. As was the custom, at registering, the dads received their tickets to the University Dining hall and to the football game, and a badge to pin upon their coat lapel. Their name, town, and state was printed upon the badge in order that they might be able to recognize the dads of the other students.

Groups Tour Campus

Three different organized groups under capable direction were conducted either to the College of Agriculture or to the Colleges of Technology or Liberal Arts. The Dad's chose the college in which they were most interested and were allowed to attend classes and labs, the technique of which was fully explained to them by the instructor in charge. Both the eight-thirty and nine-fifteen tours visited the library, Hood house, and other interesting buildings.

After the tours the students, dads and professors gathered in the men's gymnasium. The R. O. T. C. drill was canceled because of the weather, but the band played inside, from the balcony of the gymnasium. Before the social hour began, President Engelhardt welcomed the Dads with an informal speech.

DURHAM NEWS

The Durham men's club held the first supper of the year on October 21 at the Community house. Reverend Emerscön G. Hagen was the speaker of the evening, and he spoke on the churches that he had visited in this country and foreign countries. He particularly compared Japanese and Chinese churches, saying that the former were extremely clean while the latter were untidy. In the Japanese churches the congregation were even compelled to remove their shoes.

The supper was served by Mr. L. J. Higgins and his committee.

Reverend and Mrs. Emerson Hagen were present at their first reception by the Community Church on Monday evening. Dean M. Gale Eastman, Rev. Fred Buschmeyer, and Mr. Hagen spoke informally to the 250 guests.

Following the reception was a musical program. Two selections on the cello were given by Dr. James Funkhouser, who was accompanied by Mr. Robert Buxton at the piano, and the church choir sang three songs: "Allah's Holiday", "Broken Melody", and "In a Monastery Garden".

Prof. and Mrs. T. Burr Charles, Dr. and Mrs. George Potter, and Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Coulter were in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Hagen.

The New Hampshire Federation of Garden Clubs will hold its annual meeting at the Rockingham hotel in Portsmouth on October 27 at 10:30. Mrs. Lillian Larrabee of Antrim will conduct the morning session, which will start with an address by Gov. Francis Murphy, and continue with a business meeting.

Luncheon follows at 12:30 where an election of officers will be held. At 2:30 Mr. E. D. Putnam of Antrim will give an illustrated lecture.

DR. EDUARD LINDEMAN TO SPEAK THURSDAY

One of the most prominent leaders in the field of social science, Dr. Eduard C. Lindeman, National Director of the Recreation Division of the Works Progress Administration, will open the Fall Lecture Series here on Thursday, October 28th. Dr. Lindeman will speak in Murkland auditorium at 1:15 P. M. His topic will be "A Reaffirmation of the Democratic Process". Following the lecture, Dr. Lindeman will discuss the vocational aspects of sociology with a group of sociology students. From 4:30 to 5:30 he will attend the tea in Ballard hall to meet faculty members and students. After the tea he will be entertained at dinner by a group of sociology majors, and in the evening he will be at the Men's Faculty club, where he will give a brief address and lead a discussion. All members of the faculty are invited to this conference.

Will Address Class

Friday morning, Dr. Lindeman is scheduled to address the class in Sociology 61 and to give the opening address at the conference of social service workers.

A native of Michigan, Dr. Lindeman was prominent in teaching and Extension work at Michigan Agricultural college. He served as a teacher at the Y.M.C.A. college in Chicago, the North Carolina College for Women, and the New York School of Social Work. He has been a member of the executive committee of the American Association for Adult Education, Director of research for workers in the Educational Bureau of America, and advisory editor of Rural America, and a trustee of many social service organizations.

Author of Several Books

He is the author of College Characters, The Community, Social Discovery, The Meaning of Adult Education, and Urban Sociology. He has been a contributing editor of the New Republic.

In recent years, as leader of the Recreation Service of the W. P. A., he has had a great deal of influence in the development of recreation projects such as those which are being conducted in this state by the University of New Hampshire Extension Service.

VIC HUNTER PLAYS AT DAD'S DAY DANCE

More than three hundred students attended the annual Dad's Day dance, October twenty-third, sponsored by the New Hampshire Outing club. The music was furnished by Vic Hunter and his band, one of the most promising younger bands in the east.

During the course of the evening the lucky number was drawn by Coach Justice to determine the winner of the autographed football given away by the "Pep-Cats". The third name called was the lucky winner, and strangely enough it was no other than Jimmy Conrad, one of our football standouts.

The chaperones of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Loring V. Tirrell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Justice.

Kappa Delta

Alpha Sigma chapter of Kappa Delta sorority initiated seven of its pledges Sunday, October 24. Those initiated are Miriam Barker, Lotise Coffey, Estella Daroska, Constance Macnaughton, Ethel McAllister, Clara Morse, and Esther Rutledge.

The annual Harvest Supper will be served at five-thirty o'clock, Thursday, October 28, in the Community house. Tickets are fifty cents for adults and thirty-five cents for children. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the community.

Juniors to Obtain Their Granite Photos Wednesday

Juniors may obtain the proofs of their pictures for the Granite on Wednesday and Thursday, October 27 and 28, from 8-12 and 1-6 at the Granite office in Ballard hall. Each junior must call for his own picture personally. Proofs cannot be given out to anyone but the individual person.

A representative from the studio will be at the Granite office on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 2 and 3, to receive the proofs for the Granite picture and to take orders for additional pictures. Juniors are instructed to bring all proofs, but be ready to signify which proof shall be made up to go in the Granite.

No pictures will be accepted for the 1939 Granite except those taken by the Sargent Studio. If any junior has not had a sitting and still wishes to have one, he must make arrangements at the Granite office on Wednesday and Thursday, October 27 and 28. No arrangements can be made later than this date.

MANY DARK HORSES WILL PARTICIPATE IN MAYORALTY CAMPAIGN

Dirt Slinging Contest Will Commence in Front of the ATO House on Wed. Nov. 3

The Mayoralty Campaign of the 1937 season appears to be one with more aspects and flourishing fallacies than any witnessed on campus in the past. Dirt, mud, grit, and gravel has been slung against the four walls of every building on campus during the eleven years that the Mayoralty Campaign has caused headaches to co-eds, profs, deans, and the obituary, but this year there is going to be an explosion some place that will rock the decks in every sorority and fraternity settlement.

Russ Martin, chairman of the Mayoralty committee, has reported that he has not received the names of any definite candidates which means that "dark horses" are going to dominate all corners of the argument. Evidently, the campus will suddenly be overrun with "dark horses" dashing hither and thither in a mad search for votes.

Percy Whitcomb is First Entry

It has always been customary for a few candidates to reveal their identity a few days before the ball starts rolling, but so far they seem to be steering clear of the press. Percy "Perk" Whitcomb is probably the only known candidate who will positively be in the running. He has appointed Don Hillier to manage his campaign and Don is keeping all their developments a secret. He said that he is capable of managing all of his candidate's affairs without the aid of the press.

COMPLETE CAST FOR OPERETTA RELEASED

The complete cast for the "Princess Ida" operetta to be given by the Gilbert and Sullivan Society on December 8 and 9, has recently been released by Mrs. George White, director of the production.

As was previously announced, Mrs. Helen Claggett Funkhouser of Durham will sing the leading role of Princess Ida. Beverly Davis and Florence Dodge, both veteran players, interpret respectively, Lady Blanche, professor of abstract science and Psyche, professor of humanities. The role of Milissa, daughter of Lady Blanche, will be sung by Doris Ekhardt, a newcomer to the society. New also to local productions is Hershel Weinstat who will play the part of King Gama.

King Gama's three sons, Arac, Guron, and Scynthus will be played by Fred Clark, West McEvoy and Dean Edson, all experienced in opera work.

Robert Kidder will enact the part of King Hildebrand whose three sons, Hilariön, Cyril and Florian will be played by Henry Cassidy, Charles Davis and Robert Clement. The part of Sacharissa has been given to Dorothy Mecklem and Chloe and Ada will be played by Ellen Watson and Margaret Weir.

Members of the chorus include Russell Plumpton, Donald Jenkins, Richard Braun, Clyde Goodrum, Donald Taylor, Allan Evans, Manual Kopelman, Ralph Carruth, and Maxwell Campbell.

Also in the chorus are Ruth Hardy, Ruth Durning, Florence Crosby, Merle Hadley, Elizabeth Norton, Gertrude Hayes and Olga Conon.

The pianists will be Huldah Boerker and Arthur Mullen.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS LAUNCH NEW DRIVE

The Student Christian Association opened a membership drive last Saturday. The members of the cabinet are canvassing the dormitories and houses in order to find those interested in joining and to explain how they may become a member.

The purpose of this organization is to develop a Christian fellowship by sharing all the available resources of power and inspiration for the most significant living, and by working for a better life for all men through the creative use of intelligence in study and action.

The advantages of joining the Christian association are manifold and include continuing the loyalty formerly given to the home church or young people's group, allying one's self with the only interdenominational fellowship on the campus, and availing one's self of the many other privileges of membership. Also important to a prospective member is that he, as a member, will receive a monthly news bulletin, may work up to a cabinet position, and may be on the committee, planning and attending Freshman Camp next fall.

Cotton, DuRie, McNamara And Hillier Also Chosen In Annual Class Voting

Edward W. H. Little was elected president of the class of 1938, Monday, in the annual senior class elections. Little has been active in campus affairs for the past four years, and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity; Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society; Blue Key; "N. H." Club; and the Outing club. He has played varsity football for the last three years, and was elected Captain of this year's undefeated eleven. He participated in hockey in his freshman year; takes the advanced R. O. T. C. course and was a member of his Sophomore Hop and Junior Prom committees.

Charles Cotton was elected 1st Vice President. Cotton is a member of Theta Chi, social fraternity; Alpha Zeta, honorary society; Blue Key; "N. H." club; the Outing club; and the Forestry club. He has also played basketball and baseball for the past three years.

PARENTS' COMPLAINT HALTS FROSH HAZING

Next Wednesday night the Sophomore Court will have its last chance to pass judgment on the rule-breaking freshmen. Due to the scarcity of meeting rooms and letters of complaint written by parents of persecuted youths to Dean Alexander, advisor of the court, the announcement has been made by the Dean that the court would cease to exist after the next session. It seems that the frosh have been treated a little too roughly by the boys and have carried tales of torment home to their folks.

Rumors are floating about that an entirely new form of "freshman reception" will be used next year. There would be no Sophomore court and all forms of hazing would be abolished on the campus. The new students would be aided by the upper classmen to adapt themselves to the university. However, no definite action has been taken as yet.

Blue Circle Elections

Six members of the Outing club were honored by election to the Blue Circle on October 18. They were, sophomores, Stuart Marshall, Frederick Winterbottom, and Karl Woodward, and juniors, Kenneth Donle, Eleanor Lee and Margaret Boyd.

EDITORIAL

Ideas are originated by the aggressive thinkers of our time. Putting the realization of ideas into concrete achievement requires more than a leader with ideas; there must be the condition to be remedied or the course to be fought, and a people to back it up. These three factors are interrelated; no single one is more important than the other.

Students on this campus have notions of furthering student progress, but they are not acquainted with the proper agencies to bring their message before the student body. They do not know that The New Hampshire in its liberal policy on publishing provocative letters offers a medium of communication which has in the past done much toward crystallizing student opinion. Ideas expressed in this way illicit general discussion by a large body of students who serve as a check and sifting ground to test out the value of an innovation.

Once assimilated in the student mind, a definite program of action may be formulated by the Student Council, a group of student leaders who sense keenly the needs are evident and brought to the front.

SKULL LASHES OUT AT "INSULTING" EDITORIAL

TO THE EDITOR:

By this letter I do not wish to commence or continue a disagreeable tete a tete between myself and the person who wrote an article in your paper on October 19, concerning Senior Skulls. I only wish to clear his obvious pessimistic attitude toward the Skulls, and what they represent.

Not being a man of flowery words, as he of whom I speak, my lines will be crude, but I hope explanatory.

To begin with, I would like to ask you, as Editor of such a paper as The New Hampshire, why such misinformed people are allowed to cast slurs, and submit fallacies in their writing on subjects they know nothing about, and should have no right of knowing. Only once was your writer lucky enough to hit upon the truth, and that was in the phrase: "The Skulls are a mystery to the campus..." This is the truth, and is as we wish it to be, for our prime objective is to live up to the traditional secrecy of the organization.

What we do, and how, when and where, is strictly none of anybody's business but our own. We want no publicity from your paper, or anyone's paper, and to be truthful about the matter, it took one of your highly skilled reporters over three weeks to find out who the new men were in the Skulls, on the occasion last year.

From what has been said, I hope you fully understand that we do not want to be known on campus, or anywhere else. All we can ask of you is to be left alone, and out of your paper, although we are greatly pleased to know that our names were son forgotten last year. We hope they remain forgotten.

That we are of "decadent character", and of no "influence on student life", is a great injustice to our organization. Each year certain men from the junior class, in various fields, are chosen as most representative of this University, and are given by the Senior Skulls, what is relative to a secret honorary degree, and to this extent, influence the students on campus to strive to be eligible for membership.

GERMAN CLUB HOLDS SONG-FEST THURSDAY

The second meeting this year of students of German—who either can or cannot sing but still have the desire to—will be held this Thursday in Ballard hall at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that as many as possible of those, who indicated a desire to form a German club, will be present. At this meeting the following official position are to be filled:

die Hauptpianistin
die Stellvertretendepianistin
Vereinsvorstand
Stellvertreter des Vereinsvorstandes
Kassenwart
Schriftfuehrer
Punschbowlenhuter

These titles, which even the least romantic of us will admit are resplendent, have for their guiding purpose not the flow of oratory but rather that of music.

We, as members, are not letting Skulls slip backward for one moment, and the influence they have on the present members is of much more consequence than any outsider knows or can appreciate.

Simply because we mind our own business and expect other people and organizations to do likewise, in relationship with us, why should our particular society be picked apart and questioned in the public eye? Could not the author of your article headed his column; What is Alpha Sigma? Who are they? What is Blue Key? Who are they? or even have substituted a fraternity on our campus, in the same article, and have written as poorly and as ridiculously as he did on our organization? I believe he could have, and with the same result: people insulted, feelings aroused, and contempt for the writer, with only a comparatively small section of waste space filled in your paper.

Very sincerely yours,

A Skull

Editor's Note

The article in The New Hampshire of October 19 was an editorial expressing not a view of one writer, but of necessity the opinion of this newspaper. The editorial column is policy-forming and the policy it voices is determined by those in responsible positions on the staff. A diatribe against an editorial writer as such, then, is a criticism of the general policy of The New Hampshire.

It is our view that each campus organization ought to justify its existence. We think it is our function as a college newspaper to stimulate activity in organizations; if we think a group is inarticulate, we will say so.

The New Hampshire believes that campus organizations can become a part of student life only through vigorous activity. Secret undertakings that are "none of anybody's business" do not contribute to the welfare of the university.

Development of a mechanical "inner ear" to help deaf and deaf-blind persons to learn to speak was announced recently at Northeastern University.

Dr. Louis D. Goodfellow of the psychology department devised the new "ear" and named it the Gault multi-tactor, for Dr. Robert H. Gault, professor of psychology at Northwestern and director-general of the American institute for the deaf-blind.

The device translates sound into vibrations, so the subject, unable to hear, can get the "feeling" of sounds and, by association, learn to produce them.

The Broader Campus

by "Tut"

A ticket is a little thing; but just to show what can come from a little thing—"This is what happened when Arthur Locke of Wisconsin bought a ticket for a guided tour through Radio City on Columbus Day: 1. It was revealed that the girl with him was his secret bride of six months. 2. They were presented with a $177 radio. 3. The presidential suite at the Hotel Pennsylvania was turned over to them. 4. They will take part in a national broadcast. 5. They will be given a three-day trip to Atlantic City. 6. They will also be given round trip airplane tickets to Chicago. The reason: Locke was the two-millionth person to buy a Radio City tour ticket."

Seen the nice new stripe on the sidewalk down by the Wildcat? Perhaps the Boston Police could use the idea.

"A man who drove up to Boston one weekend ran into terrible difficulties parking his car in one of those narrow crowded Back Bay streets. Finally in a temper, he drove right up onto the sidewalk, and left the car there. On his return he found what looked like a ticket tucked under the windshield wiper. It wasn't though—just a polite little note signed with the policeman's name and number: 'In Boston we do not park cars on the sidewalk.'"

You tennis players who have to wait fifteen minutes to get a court had better keep away from U.S.C. The Trojans, noted for their athletic prowess, have one tennis court for each 2500 students. And the boys are kicking because the courts are locked up on Sunday and the nets are taken away. Doesn't do them any good to climb the fence.

At Northeastern, according to a campus editorial, liberal education for the engineer is lacking. "The lack of knowledge of the finer arts is one of the weaknesses of the educational system. The engineer is taught engineering and everything pertaining to it. This is a perfectly logical procedure to secure results and to bring about the present live wire system, but we lose sight of the satisfaction which may be derived from the play of the mind and the knowledge of human nature." The senior E. E.'s here at UNH have the right idea. Ask any of them how they like History 51?

Professor Moran on the prowl with his camera is a sure indication of something going on. He probably has the best candid shots of the campus available. At the University of Alabama a weekly feature at the local theater is "Campus Newsreel". Athletic events, classes, and campus personalities are shown. Students and faculty respond with enthusiasm—"co - eds are thrilled by their screen debuts and the pictures of frosh meetings, the dining hall, and freshmen week were especially enjoyed. We have all that here. If Professor Moran could get some of his material together, it would make a grand show for a rally or midnight movies at Carnival Imagine preserving in celluloid an eight o'clock class on a morning after!

Wonder if any of our profs ever feel like the parson "who in the midst of an interminable sermon, suddenly stopped to chide: 'You know I don't mind a bit having you look at your watches to see what time it is, but is really annoys me when you put them up to your ears to see if they are still running.'"

ALUMNAE COUNCIL HOLDS ANNUAL TEA

The Alumnae Council of the University of New Hampshire announces that its second annual silver tea will take place on Sunday, October 31, in Scott hall. At this time a John Singer Sargent painting will be on exhibition. The proceeds of the tea will be used to bring further art exhibits to the girls' dormitories.

The Art exhibits, started last year, will be continued this year by the Alumnae Council. At the first annual tea held last year on December 6, the Council presented "Morning Calm Appledore" by Childe Hassam. This painting, valued at $4,000, was obtained through the courtesy of the Addison Galleries in Andover, Mass.

Among other portraits hung were "Kathleen" by Robert Henri, obtained from the Grace Horne Galleries of Boston, and "Summer Evening" by Alice Hubbard Stevens. Excellent copies of "Saint Victoire" by Paul Cezanne, "La Gare St. Lazare", by Claude Monet, and "A Portrait of a Woman" by Edouard Manet, all obtained through the courtesy of the State Library at Concord, were hung in the early spring.

Mrs. Edna H. Hersey '26, Somersworth, Chairman of the Council, will be assisted in making arrangements for the tea by Mrs. Lucia W. Smalley '07, E. Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Marion G. Perkins '12, Boston, Mass.; Miss Sara Greenfield '19, Rochester; Mrs. Ada L. Lundholm '19, Durham; Miss Louise M. Norton, Concord; Dr. Anne L. Philbrook '28, Concord; and Miss Gertrude Chamberlin '33, Reeds Ferry.

Local alumni assisting are: Mrs. Edith R. Alexander '25; Mrs. Gwendolyn L. Hoit; Mrs. Marion A. Blewett '26; Mrs. Rachel D. Martin '26; Mrs. Ruth R. Starke '23; Mrs. Frances P. Leavitt '23; Mrs. Isabel S. Webster '30; Mrs. Eva W. Eadie '33; Mrs. Alice T. MacLellan, '33; Mrs. Dorothy J. True '37; Mrs. Katherine T. Ayer '22.

Alumni, students, parents and friends are welcome to attend the tea and exhibition.

You know the kind—Carolyn Wells expresses it rather neatly: "They borrow books, they will not buy. They have no ethics nor religions. I wish some kind Burbankian guy Would cross my books with homing pigeons."

A thought for those who sit in the bleachers:

"Before I heard the doctors tell
The danger of a kiss,
I had considered kissing you
The nearest thing to bliss.
But now I know biology,
I sit and sigh and moan;
Six million mad bacteria—
And I thought we were alone."

Where Is He?

"Oh darling," he murmured, "I love you so. Please say you'll be mine. I'm not rich like Percival Brown. I haven't a car, a fine house, or a well-stocked cellar, but, darling, I love you, and I cannot live without you!"

Two soft arms stole around his neck, and two ruby lips whispered in his ear: "And I love you, too, darling; but—where is this man Brown?"

Her car stalled at the corner and the traffic light changed red, yellow, green; red, yellow, green, etc. The polite policeman stepped up beside her car and said: "What's matter, lady; ain't we got any colors you like?"

Ninety Per Cent of Students Are Natives of New England

It is interesting to note that of our student body of 1766, 1379 are from New Hampshire. Massachusetts ranks next with 215 students, while 50 students are registered from New York. Maine has 42, and Connecticut follows next with 29. The other states represented are; New Jersey 16, Vermont 13, Rhode Island 9, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois have 2 apiece; and Virginia, Washington, D. C. and Nebraska have 1 apiece.

894 students are natives of New Hampshire, 424 were born in Massachusetts, 77 in Maine, 45 in Vermont, 42 in Connecticut, and 19 in Rhode Island making the total of natives of New England 1501—90 per cent of the student body. New York state claims 69, New Jersey

19, Pennsylvania 11, and Michigan 6. Illinois, Ohio and Nebraska claim four apiece. The District of Columbia claims three students, while the following states have two apiece: Minnesota, New Mexico, Virginia and California. Questions for Someone

About the new library wings! Are those places that look like bricked-up windows really going to have glass in them, or are they just decoration? Maybe the bricklayer made a mistake, we don't know.

When are the water bubblers going to be turned on? They might at least give us the reason for the "dust bowls" in all the campus buildings.

Why do some of the most rabid football fans refuse to buy a picture from the Pep-Cats?

Why do the Dads bring rain with them on Dad's Day? And the Mothers, too, on Mother's Day?

Why doesn't someone start a collection of campus "cute" rain hats? In his day Barnum would have paid highly for some of them.

Why doesn't someone invent a student athletic ticket a person can wear on his coat? 'Twould save the ushers asking to see your ticket at about six different points between the road and your seat.

Why do the stooges in the stag line under the arch of T hall at 8 o'clock every morning never seem to have a class at that tragic hour? Some or them are there from quarter of eight to quarter past.

Who started the current fad in feminine scarfs? According to one casual observer of the peasant effect the coeds look like women just off Ellis Island.

And while we're on the subject of feminine fashions—how come the custom of beribboned hairpins? We thought hairpins were supposed to be invisible; but now the gals call attention to 'em—jest look at that purty red ribbon!

Why does the stag line at the Rally show such enthusiasm in getting out the middle of the floor; but when they get there, stand around and do nothing?

VERMONT PEP RALLY HELD IN GYMNASIUM

The fifth pep rally of the season was held October 22 in the men's gymnasium. It was well attended as have been all previous rallies.

In the absence of "Huck" Quinn, "Dick" Coney, his substitute, Percy Whitcomb and "Johnny" McKeigue urged the team on to victory with many enthusiastic songs and cheers.

"Red" Webb, "Herb" Person, "Joe" Tinker, "Skid" Abbott and "Wally" Ballou urged the student body to support the football team and promised victory in return. Dean Eastman followed with a few words of encouragement.

The rally was followed by a dance for which Bob Glynn furnished the music.

FROSH HARRIERS WIN
AS VARSITY LOSES

Journeying to Cambridge, Massachusetts for a triangular meet with teams from Harvard and Dartmouth, the New Hampshire harriers split even as the freshman team won and the varsity came in third. Meade, Pelkey, Kirk, Shaw, and Snowman were the first five to finish for the Frosh, coming in 2nd, 4th, 6th, 8th, and 10th respectively. The scores in the Freshman meet were as follows: New Hampshire 30; Harvard 40; and Dartmouth 52.

The varsity was not so fortunate, however. The scores in their meet were as follows: Dartmouth 36; Harvard 42; and New Hampshire 54. The first men to finish for the varsity were Bishop and Jennison, who came in 4th and 5th, Quinn, 6th, Slater, 18th, and Ford 21st. Whitman and Wonson, both of Dartmouth came in first and second. Whitman's time over the difficult course was 28:44, while Wonson made it in 29:15. Bishop and Jennison finished in 29:41 to be closely followed by "Huck" Quinn in 29:46.

In the Frosh meet, Nichols of Harvard was first in 13:41:2. Meade of New Hampshire finished in 13:43, while Pelkey of New Hampshire crossed the line in 14:02.

This was the third meet of the season for both the New Hampshire teams.

LEAVITT, WHITCOMB
REACH NET FINALS

Sol Leavitt and Percy Whitcomb coasted into the final round of the First U. N. H. Tennis championship. Whitcomb, the dark horse of the tournament, reached the finals by disposing of Charlie Pifford in fairly easy fashion, 6-1, 6-4. Leavitt was pushed more than expected by Louis Wyman. The score was 6-3, 7-5.

These two will meet in the finals on Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock on the new courts at Lewis Field.

In the doubles, Whitcomb and Decker have reached the finals in the upper bracket. They defeated Leavitt and Abramson 6-4, 6-2. In the lower half, Garvey and Wyman meet Piffard and Blackler to decide the team that will meet Whitcomb and Decker for the doubles championship. The finals in the doubles is scheduled for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Lewis Fields courts.

The University of Texas claims the distinction of having the only self-supporting student union in the country.

Mather Score Touchdowns

After playing to a scoreless half, the Frosh football team broke through a strong defensive line to whip Phillips Exeter, 18 to 7, Saturday afternoon on the academy grounds.

Bob Knox scored the first touchdown for the Kittens when an Exeter punt was blocked on their own 12 yard line.

Later in the third period, Win Merrill crossed the goal line, after catching a pass. Wally Mather broke through for a forty yard scoring run early in the fourth period.

Exeter rallied in the last quarter to push the ball over for a single touchdown.

Despite adverse weather conditions and a large number of injuries which hampered the freshmen, they turned in a splendid exhibition of football to win their first game of the season.

The intramural basketball leagues will finish up their schedules today. At present, Theta Kappa Phi is favored to take the championship in league one, and Theta Chi to win the second league.

The first game of the finals will be held tomorrow at 7:30 in the gym. The second will be on Friday at 4:30 P. M.

To date, the league standings are as follows:

Students dancing to swing music—1200 of them—generate enough heat to warm a two-story house for two days in ordinary winter weather. So sayeth an engineer at the University of Wisconsin.

"On to Victory" has at last become a theme song for the New Hampshire football team. With the victory over Vermont a reality, the Wildcats have rung up five victories in a row, more than they won last year all together. However the game this week will tell the story.

The next objective of the cross country team is the Harvard Open meet at the Stadium this weekend. The Wildcats should be victorious this week as the open permits freshmen to compete. This gives the New Hampshire team a decided advantage with Pelky, Meade, and Kirk to run for them.

Every one up and a long New Hampshire for the team. Not the varsity either, but to the freshmen. They came through gloriously against Exeter, registering the first victory of a freshman football team in three years, and the first one over Exeter, in more than that. Lundy has done a great job with the yearlings, as they seem to be hitting a winning stride and are giving the varsity a god rub whenever they practice together. The latter is really the prime reason for maintaining freshmen teams together with the opportunity to develop men for the next season. Let's see a good crowd out to cheer them on against Bridgeton, Friday.

It looks like a good crowd will be going to Manchester this week end for that St. Anselm's game. This is the only game away from home that the student body can attend easily. At the same time you must remember that it will bring together two natural rivals as well as two of the strongest small college teams in New England. The team has been given excellent support this year and deserves the support of every one in this the hardest game of the year. St. Anselm brought up their whole student body to the game last year. Why can't we do the same this year?

Vermont may have come out on the short end of the score, but they came out on the long end of the praise from the New Hampshire players. They all said that the Vermont team was the scrappiest they had met this year. They sure showed something this week against the Wildcats. It takes something to stay in there and fight hard when the score is thirty-odd points against them, which is just what the Vermont players were doing. Here's to you Vermont, may the rest of your games bring you success.

The band turned in a good job at the game Saturday, forming three small V's on the Vermont side of the field and the customary N H on the stadium side. The field was pretty muddy for accurate marching, but they went thru their formations without a flaw.

Finals in the tennis tournament singles are to be played off tomorrow afternoon between Percy Whitcomb and Sol Leavitt. Interest has been keen in the competition, and the entry list of 40 has been worked down to the two finalists. A good crowd should be on hand for the matches tomorrow because these fellows represent the best on campus, and a classy brand of tennis will be seen.

While on the subject of intramurals, basketball finals also start tomorrow. Theta Kappa Phi, winner of League I, will be playing Theta Chi, winner of League II. Both of these teams are undefeated in their leagues, so a real contest is in order. A. T. O. and Kappa Sigma or S. A. E. will fight it out for second place honors.

Dad's Day Game Featured
By Several Long Runs and Eight Completed Forwards

The Wildcats of New Hampshire definitely proved themselves better mudders than their opponents as they oozed to a 34-0 win over a big Vermont eleven.

Owing to the heavy rain which fell all day until game time, and during most of the second half, Lewis Field was a sea of mud, churned into waves of slime by the cleats and faces of the players. In spite of conditions, however, the victors were able to make several long gains and complete eight of fifteen attempted passes.

Abbott Makes First Touchdown

"Skid" Abbott scored the first touchdown from the one yard line as the climax of a sustained drive from midfield. "Red" Webb and Fred Winterbottom each caught a Giarla pass to aid in the advance, while the rest of the yardage was made on line plunges by Giarla, Fournier and Abbott. Giarla's placement kick for the conversion was blocked, but Leary picked up the ball and crossed the line, scoring the point.

DuRie scored the second touchdown, in the second period, after making a superb catch of a 20 yard pass from Paul Horne. Johnny gathered the ball into his arms on the ten yard line, and managed to retain his balance long enough to get over the goal line. The placement kick by Russ Martin was true to the mark, and the score stood at 14 - 0.

Vermont chose to receive, and Martin got off a short twisting boot while DuRie fell upon it on Vermont's 32 yard stripe. As a kickoff automatically becomes a free ball after travelling ten yards, New Hampshire was given possession of the pigskin at this point. Next, Horne slid through a gaping hole at tackle, and ran to the 13 yard line. Mitchell added four yards, Horne carried twice more to the one yard line and a first down, and then drove through for the third tally. Again Martin's kick for the point was good.

Mitchell Makes Long Run

One of the best executed plays of the game culminated in another score, this time by Mitchell. After catching one of Kimball's punts at midfield, and returning it to the 30 yard line, Burt swung through a large hole in the left side of the Vermont line, and, miraculously keeping his footing in the treacherous mud, cut back to the right and outsprung the defense to the end zone. Martin converted the 28th point on a placement kick.

The final tally was made by Horne, his second of the game, after Haynes had recovered Beauchemin's fumble of the kickoff, on Vermont's 27 yard line. Mitchell charged off left tackle for nine yards, and on four consecutive off-tackle slices, Horne lugged the ball over for the touchdown. The placement kick attempt for the extra point was wide of the goal posts.

At no time did the Catamounts threaten to score. Their longest gain was an eleven yard run by Jones in the third quarter. This brought the ball to New Hampshire's 37 yard line, beyond which they never progressed.

Covering the Waterfront

Kimball and Levine, left halfback and fullback respectively, were outstanding in the losers' backfield. They bore the brunt of the defense, backing up their heavy, but outplayed line. Credit is due the Vermont boys for a scrappy showing in the face of a much better team.

It must have been a disheartening sensation for the Vermont players to watch the New Hampshire first stringers come onto the field in the second quarter. Just imagine! Nearly two hundred miles away from home; weary, muddy and soaking wet; trailing by seven large points, and eleven fresh enemy men trotting confidently onto the field! Who says that psychology has no part in football?

Especially noticeable from the pressbox was the improved blocking and tackling by the Sauermen. In spite of the weakness of the opposition it is encouraging to see the boys improving in these all-important points of the game.

And orchids to Johnny DuRie and Frank Leary, for their alertness in capitalizing on Vermont blunders. Those things win football games!

This business of scoring in the first few minutes of the game has become a habit with our boys. Have you noticed that they've done it every game this season?

We had been wondering how the Blue and White would fare as mudders. Now, we know! They gained ten times as much yardage as their oponents!

Kimball is one of those infrequently seen oddities, a left-footed kicker. He got off a number of fine punts for Vermont, in view of conditions, as did Abbott, Giarla, and Nathanson for the Wildcats.

It is pleasant to realize that our coaches can put three teams of almost equal ability on the field. Capable reserves are a vital part of any successful team.

See you at the St. Anselm game next week.

On November 3 at one o'clock the fireworks will start at the A T O house. On benches, boxes, stools, and chairs the cream of the crop will give their best to interested students. The second gathering of the candidates will probably be in front of The Wildcat on the following evening at seven o'clock and thereafter gatherings will be held in any place, at any time, and under any circumstances.

New and Different Methods to be Used

There will be a great deal of psychology in this year's campaign as there is going to be more than a collection of home-cooked and instantaneous joksters. The candidates are undoubtedly out to sway the students with something new and different, because someone has been over to the Dover library in a desperate search of Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People". This book has already been sweeping the country from coast to coast, and it should contain material that can be used by any intelligent candidate in obtaining a few votes.

It is also understood that students in public speaking are selling their knowledge of poise, posture, tact, and speech control to campaigners. They have refused to reveal the names of their proteges, but do say that their tutoring has culminated into a real money-making proposition. The other day a Wildcat was seen coming from Dover with paint, rolls of oil-cloth, and bundles of old clothes. This collection, no doubt, is part of the equipment of a "dark horse."

DAD'S DAY

Dad's Meet Faculty

Under the supervision of the Women's Student government, the dad's met their son's and daughter's professors. About twelve fifteen the crowd began to clear for the luncheon hour. A few of the visitors were entertained at the Sorority and Fraternity houses while the rest congregated at the Commons where they made new acquaintances and renewed old.

At two o'clock, despite the dampness, the dads showed up at the Football stadium in heavy coats and old hats, to ward off the rain, ready to witness the pending game. It was evident that their spirits did not dampen with the weather. During the game, between Vermont and New Hampshire, the dads of the football players were introduced to the crowd in the grandstand, and with much fervor, led the crowd in the noisiest N. H. cheer of the afternoon.

Shortly after the half, the rain began to come down harder than ever; coat collars were pulled tighter and umbrellas went up. In truth, some members of the student body were tempted to turn around and run for home, but the dads insisted on staying and cheering the football team on to victory.

Because of slow driving conditions, the dads left for home immediately after the game, tired, but happily impressed with the new spirit of organization and leadership prevalent over every phase of the college life. And most of them predict more and more successful seasons for the teams and organizations under the supervision of the new president, Dr. Fred Engelhardt.

New Hampshire Outing Club Presents Varied Activities

In 1915, a small group of students founded the University of New Hampshire Outing club. Since that time, it has grown to be one of the largest organizations on the campus, having a membership of 375 students and faculty.

Owens Three Cabins

The Outing club owns three cabins, which are used by members on trips. One is nearby Mendum's Pond, one in Franconia Notch, and a third at the summit of Pinnacle Mountain in Canaan. The club also has the use of a fourth cabin at the Glen House in Pinkham Notch. During the fall and spring seasons, weekly suppers are held at Mendum's Pond. Week-end trips to Mount Washington, Franconia Notch, Mount Cardigan, Choconut, and other mountains are also run throughout the year. A typical trip includes transportation in the club wagon or private cars, meals, and hiking or skiing at a minimum cost.

Sponsors Horse Show

The Outing club, with the cooperation of the Animal Husbandry Department, sponsors the annual Horse Show. This yearly event was started in the fall of 1933, and has been carried on for four years. The local club is the only one, of twenty nearby members of the Intercollegiate Outing club association, that attempts such an activity.

The annual Carnival week-end, during which the Carnival Ball, one of the outstanding social events of the school year is held, is another event sponsored by the Outing club. Such competitions as ski jumping, cross country ski and snowshoe races, figure skating, and hockey games are climaxed by the Ball at which the Snow Queen and King Winter are crowned.

May Construct Lean-to Cabins

It is expected that one or two lean-to cabins will soon be erected at the University reservoir. Skiing and skating parties will be held at these cabins during the coming winter.

The governing body of the Outing club is known as the Blue Circle. It is composed of fifteen members from each of the three upper classes, with an inner council of its officers and department heads. A system of heeling for the Blue Circle is used by which potential leaders, that are truly interested in the club, and its activities, are selected. This system is based on points obtained by working for the club on various events, trips, etc. A minimum number of fifteen points places the heelers under keen observation by the members of the Blue Circle. The ones having the highest number of points, however, are not necessarily chosen, as their character and personality are also taken into consideration.

Membership is open to all students at the University upon payment of a small fee, which entitles the student to participate in activities of the club and to benefit by substantial reductions on Carnival Ball tickets and winter sports equipment.

Alpha Chi Omega

John DuRie, elected 2nd Vice President of the class, is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity and Blue Key. He is a student in the advanced R. O. T. C. course, and is a member of Scabbard and Blade society. For the past three years he has participated in football, basketball and lacrosse.

Elizabeth McNamara was elected secretary. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and the Sociology club. Her activities include The Granite, Outing club, Yacht club, Blue Circle, Winter Carnival committee, and junior class secretary.

Donald Hillier was the successful candidate out of a field of seven aspirants for the treasurer's position. Hillier is a member of Phi Lambda Phi fraternity, and the rifle team. He has been a manager of the track team for the past two years, and takes the advanced R. O. T. C. course.

Out of the 265 votes in the senior class, approximately 158 ballots were cast.

This is a decided improvement over last year when only one half of the total enrollment saw fit to take part in the election.
